Salient Funds Tax Year 2020 (Unaudited): Percentage of Ordinary Income Dividends Derived from U.S. Government Securities

During the calendar year, certain Salient Funds invested in securities issued by the U.S. government or other federal agencies (collectively, "U.S. Government Securities"). Under federal law, the interest on U.S. Government Securities is exempt from state taxation. Certain states also exempt from state taxation the ordinary income dividends a mutual fund shareholder receives that is derived from the fund's investment in these U.S. Government Securities.

The table below provides the percentages of ordinary income dividends derived from investments in U.S. Government Securities during calendar year 2020. To determine the amount that may be exempt from state income tax, multiply the amount reported in box 1a of Form 1099-DIV by the applicable percentage below. As the requirements for exemption vary by state, we suggest that you consult a tax advisor or your state's income tax return instructions to determine your eligibility.

California, Connecticut and New York require that a mutual fund maintain certain minimum investments in U.S. Government Securities in order for the ordinary income dividends derived from these obligations to be exempt from state income tax. None of the funds listed below met these requirements for calendar year 2020.
